more correctly speaking, the Postoffice and U. S. court hose in process of erection in that city. The completion of this building has nothing to do with the question of the re-establishment of a port of entry at Parkersburg. That matter rests upon a foundation of its own. It is simply to afford that city a government building for the accommodation of the Postoffice Department and the Circuit and District Courts of the United States. As we understand the matter, Parkersburg is not now a port of entry. At least the Secretary of the Treasury so stated in April last.

Major Bickham, of the Dayton Journal, who was the first editor to bring Gov. Hayes before the public as a Presidential candidate, is now second only in importance to the Governor. The bunds are serenading him and the papers are proclaiming his virtues. It therefore becomes us to remark that the Major many years ago used to go to school up at Bethany, and when there was such an irrepressible chap that the Faculty were compelled to rusticate him once in the course of his career, in order to give the energy of character which still belongs to him free course to run and be glorified. energy of character which still belongs to him free course to run and be glorified. him free course to run and be glorified.

The exportation of cotton goods to Europe has had a very beneficial effect on the American market. It has really relieved it of a certain amout of goods, and, what is more important, has stayed British importations. Some of our goods are so much superior to English makes that they can be sold at a profit in that country. The cotton manufacturers, like the iron meh, are deeply interested in, first, possessing the American market against the world, and, next, in securing the Canadian and South American markets. As soon as the country gets down to hard pan prices this new departure of trade will become possible.

Governor Straw is a man of large ex perience and extensive travel and observation. He does not believe that we have yet passed the nadir of depression in business. "Such remarks as this is tantamount to a speci-fic promise, and it may be inferred that the European powers are determined to remain spectators of what passes between Turkey and her subjects. This does not the European powers are determined to remain spectators of what passes between Turkey and her subsets. This does not mean that the pacification of Turkey is an accomplished fact, or that we are on the eve of its being effected. The insurgents do not seem disposed to lay down their arms nor Servia to abandon her pretensions of annexing, on the one hand Herzegovinia and on the other Bosnia, with the consent of Turkey herself, but what is known to-day appears to indicate that the European powers will support the insurgents and their neighbors, though none with the endeavor to thwart their designs, and when the insurgents and the Porte come face to face and Europe is seen to remain spectators, this insurrecseen to remain spectators, this insurrec-tion will perhaps finish as it began, that-is, without 'anybody knowing the reason why. At the present moment everybody, particularly the six powers, are convinced that peace will not be disturbed beyond the frontier of Turkey.

Application was made to-day before the Court of the Queen's Bench for the discharge of Charles Brent, the Louis-ville forger. The Attorney General of-fered no opposition to his release, but made a statement in relation to the case. The Court accordingly granted an order for the prisoner's release.

THE BARBADOES RIOT.

THE BARBADDES RIOT.

The bishop and arch deacon of Barbadoes and thirty-four clergymen, constituting the entire body of the Barbadoes clergy, and four Moravian missionaries, have signed a statement for presentation to Earl Carnavon, colonial minister, detailing the outrageous character of the late riots on that Island. They say that the riots were not caused by any suffering, but by a general impression among the negroes that the land and property of the planters would be divided among them with the Governor's consent. They state that they cannot tell how this impression was created, but it was undoubtedly general. The feeling against all property holders is intensely hostile and bitter, and it will require firmness and judgment on the part of the authorities to remove this impression, even if it removable during the present energy.

Mr. Howe demanded a division of the order, and the question being of the first clause thereof, viz: Ordered, That the paper presented by the defendant on the bit inst., be filed in this cause, it was decided in the affirmative; year 20, nays 24.

The question then recurring on the last clause of the order of Mr. Sherman, viz: and the defendant having failed to answer to the merits within the ten days allowed by order of the Senate of the 6th inst. trial shall proceed on the 6th of the control of DESERVES THE CORDIAL SUPPORT of every Republican in the country, and a platform broad enough for every pa-triot in the land to stand on. He heartly indersed them both, and felt sure of their riumph at the polls.

Mr. Henderson said that he was personally acquainted with Hayes and Wheeler, and knew them them to be true and able men and the representatives of the high est Republican principles should suppor them cordially, and believed THEIR TRIUMPH CERTAIN. Col. Dyer, who was a strong Bristow man before the nomination and worked hard for his nomination, accepted the hard for his nomination, accepted the nominees most, cordially and should labor for their election. He believed they would be elected and that their administration of the government would be pure and able.

Mr. Filley said that the action of the Cincinnati Convention means the unity of the Republican party, and unity means victory.
